Description

Any customer purchasing learning products in Moodle may need having an history of its customer account regarding billing.

This block will display a list of all the bills of the current user as a customer. It can be added in any course or page the user has access to. In most cases, a moodle course may be used as customer support online workplace.

The customer account needs being (this is the case after a product is purchased) associated to a real moodle account to get permissions to access the bills.
