Panel at the top of courses

The panel at the top of courses is hidden in our integration model, and the right side panel allowing blocks to be added has been reinstated.

Left side panel of courses

- The menu giving access to the standard Moodle front page can be shown or hidden as desired
- For the dashboard, the strategy used is the display of the “Enhanced My Moodle” (local My) component, which corresponds to a highly customised dashboard for the different types of users.

Footer

- Modification of the footer renderer to accept a left, centre and right area

Front page

The menu used to adjust the front page settings, each setting being organised by section.

Colours

Addition of a colour selector for the following front page sections:

- Contact navigation bar.
- Announcement section.
- Customisable boxes section.
- Client logos section.
